PAPER MOISTENER.—A new invention for mois-ening postage stamps, envelopes, sheets in a copying book, counting bank bills, &c. The common way of moistening stamps with the tongue is very disagreeable and inconvenient; also the usual way of wetting sheets in a copying book, by using a brush which has to be dipped in water, is inconvenient and very difficult to give paper an even moisture, which is very desirable for copying letters. This article obviates these difficulties, besides being useful for various other purposes. It is also perfectly simple and cheap, and must come into general use.—[Boston Post, Sept., 1864.

WASHINGTON SENTINEL.

DAILY.

NO. 133.

CITY OF WASHINGTON, SATURDAY MORNING MARCH 3, 1855.

PROSPECTUS

"W ASHINGTON SENTINEL." PROPOSE to publish in the city of Washing ton, in September, a political newspaper, un the name of the WASHINGTON SENTI NEL.

In doing so, it is proper I should make known the principles it will maintain, and the policy it will advocate.

It will support cordially and earnestly the principles of the Democratic party of the United States it does not propose to be the organ of any Depart ment of the Government, except in so far as an in dependent maintenance of the doctrines of that party may represent its opinions and express its views.

It will not be ambitious to commend itself to the people by a blind flattery of their rulers. It will seek public support by the bold avowal of the sentiments which are common to the genuine Democracy of the Union, and by the condemnation of all such as may conflict with them, from whatever quarter they may come. It will seek to be (and it will endeavor to deserve the title) the organ of the Democratic party of the United States.

The Sentinel will maintain, as a fundamenta truth of that great party, that the States formed the Union between them by the ratification of the Constitution as a compact; by which, also, they created the Federal Government, and delegated to it, as their common agent, the powers expressly specified in it, with an explicit reservation of all others to the States, or to their separate governments. The exercise of any powers beyond these thus delegated, is, therefore, an usurpation of the reserved authority of the States by the agent or their own creation.

The Sentinel will uphold and defend the Union upon the basis of the rights of the States—under the Constitution—and thus by sedulously guarding the latter, it will the more effectually strengthen and perpetuate the former.

With regard to the exercise of the powers of the Feceral Government, the SENTINEL will take as Feceral Government, the SENTINEL will take as the principles of its action, that Congress shall exercis no power which has not been delegated by the C. ustitution, according to a strict and fair interpret tion of its language and spirit; and that it shall no seek to attain indirectly an object through the exer ise of constitutional power, for the direct attainment of which it has no delegation of power. In other words, all powers exercised must be clearly gratted, and all granted powers must be used for no surpose, except such as is clearly intended by the Constitution.

. In respect to the internal administration of th In respect to the internal administration of the Government, the Sentingle will sustain the settled policy of the L mocratic party. It will labor to inculcate this ce dinal doctrine of Democratic in ternal policy:—t at this Government will best promote the freed in and prosperity of the people of the States, by being less ambitious to exercise power, and more anxious to preserve liberty; and by leaving to the individual States the management of all their domestic concerns—while it contents itself with guarding the confederacy from external violence, and directing the foreign policy of the country to the promotion of the common interests, and defence of the common rights, and honor of the States composing it. konor of the States composing it.

The States composing it.

The Sentinel will advocate such a progressive foreign policy as will suit itself to the exigencies, and correspond with the expanding interests of the country. That policy should be energetic and decided; but should temper firmness with liberality and make its highest ends consist with the strictest principles of justice. The real interests of the country, upon each occasion demanding attention will be its guide in the course the Sentinel will pursue.

The national policy of the world in this age is essentially aggressive. In the growing sense of weakness of some of the nations of the Old World, and the ambitious restlessness of others, a com

Our settled determination to repel interference from abroad with our domestic concerns, will prompt us to avoid it in the affairs of other coun prompt us to avoid it in the affairs of other countries, unless by their foreign or colonial policy our peace should be threatened, our security endan gered, or our interests invaded. For when the selfish interests of other nations prompt a foreign or colonial policy which infringes upon our rights, and places in the pathway of our commerce a dangerous and unfriendly rival, such a policy must be resisted by removal range, and if need he level. be resisted by remonstrance, and, if need be, by

Our foreign policy should, indeed, be defensive but to be properly defensive, it must sometimes be opparently aggressive. Our administration should be vigilant, watchful, and energetic. The world is full of important movements, commercial and political, deeply concerning American trade and American power. It is time we had an American foreign policy. We must have it. We cannot avoid it if we would. We have larger interests, and a greater stake in the world and its destuny, than every other people. We occupy the best portion of a continent, with no neighbors but a colony, and a worn-out, anarchical despotism. We are the oliny people whose own land, without colonial defendencies, is washed by the two great oceans of the world. Our agricultural productions are more varied and more essential to civilized life, and to human progress—our mineral and manufacturing resources more vast—our facilities and capacity for internal and foreign commerce more extended than those of any other people living under one than those of any other people living under one government. A continent, to a great extent, unexplored and exhaustless in its yet hidden wealth is at our feet. European trade seeks the great East through avenues which are at our doors, or must be made through our own limits. Europe, Asia, Africa, and the isles of the sea, lying all around us, look to us as the rising power, through the agency of whose example, and ever widening and extending, though peaceful influences, the bless ings of liberty, civilization, and religion, are destined to triumph over the barbarism and superstition of the millions of the world. And shall such a people refuse to lay hold upon their destiny, and tion of the millions of the world. And shall such a people refuse to lay hold upon their destiny, and act upon the high mission to which it is called? A mission so full of hope, though so laden with responsibility, which, if properly directed, must make our confederacy the harbinger of peace to the world, as well as the peaceful arbiter of its

The SENTINEL will, therefore, advocate a bold and earnest foreign policy, such as the condition of the country demands; but it will advocate it under the country demands; but it will advocate it under the flag of the country—nowhere else. Its foreign policy must be consistent with the spotless honor and unimpeachable good faith of the country. To be respectable at home and abroad, and to be great in the eyes of the world, it must ask for nothing but what is right, and submit to nothing that is wrong. It must be liberal and magnanimous to the rights of others, and firm and immoveable in insisting on its own. It must, in fine, be true, to insisting on its own. It must, in fine, be true to its own interests, rights, and honor—it cannot then be false to those of other nations.

Such, then, is the chart by which we shall be guided. Independent and free, we shall endeavor to be honest and truthful. The true friends of democratic principles we shall cordially support and defend. Its enemies in the field or in amoush we shall oppose, and on all proper occasions de nounce.

To our future brethren of the press we extend the hand of friendly greeting. The Sentinel is the rival of no press of its own party—the personal enemy of none of the other.

Christopher Adams, complamant,

James Guthrie, Amos Adams, Isaac N. Comstock, Samuel Byington, and Richard Wallach, Defendants.

Richard Wallach,

THIS bill of complaint in the shove stated cause states, that the said complainant, on or about the twenty-fifth day of November, A. D., 1851, entered into a contract with the United States government, agreeing to supply the government with five million of brick for the extension of the Capitol. That said complainant, on or about the 12th day of January, A. D. 1852, assigned to one Samuel Strong, the said contract; the said Strong agreeing and promising to pay to said complainant the sum of iour thousand dollars.

The bill further states that the said Strong, on four thousand dellars.

The bill further states that the said Strong, on or about the 2d day of February, A. D. 1852, assigned the said contract, or one moiety thereof, to Amos Adams and Isane N. Comstock, of the city Amos Adams and Isaac N. Comstock, of the city of Albany and State of New York, and received from the said Adams and Comstock their obligation or promise for the payment of four thousand dollars, or thereabout, as well as a lieu of thirty per cent. on the moneys to be paid by the government on said contract, until the said sum of four thousand dollars should be paid; which lien said Strong duly assigned to the complainant in this bill. The bill further states that sometime in the year 1852, the said Amos Adams and Isaac N. Comstock assigned their right, title, and interest in the contract to one Samuel Byington as partner and associate of Richard Wallach, the said Byington and Walof Richard Wallach, the said Byington and Wal-lach having notice of the said lien of thirty per cent, on the moneys to be paid by the government on said contract.

The object of said bill is to obtain an injunction The object of said bill is to obtain an injunction against said defendants inhibiting the said James Guthrie, and all persons acting for him, from paying the said moneys to any of the defendants, or their representatives, and the defendants and their representatives, from receiving the said moneys until the sum of thirty-six hundred dollars, and the interest thereon, should be paid to the complainant or his legal representatives, and such other and further decree as to this court shall seem right and proper. The said Amos Adams and the said Isaac N. Comstock, named in the caption and body of the bill, still residing in Albany as aforesaid, beyond the reach of the process of the court.

The Messrs. Heidsieck & Co., as set forth therein, justly claim to be alone enabled to send to this country the genuine Heidsieck & Co. Champaigne, under the same name and style as originally introduced into this market, now nearly thirty years ago, they being sole proprietors of all the identical vineyards, cellars, & C., which the founders and originators of this celebrated brand had owned.

Such being the fact, we need not dwell upon the superior quality of their Wines, the reputation of the same among the American public being already identified with unsurpassed excellance.

We beg particularly to notice that their brand still bears the same name of Heidsieck & Co., in full, by which it first became so favorably known, being thereby easily distinguished from other similar marks which have since appearad.

To C. B. Detmold, President N. J. Zinc Co., N. 1 Sir: A series of experiments conducted by me, with the utmost care, during the past three years, upon all the various paints and artificial preparations for the preservation of timber, have led me to the important discovery that the White Zinc Paint, manufactured by the New Jersey Zinc Company serves as a period, protection against the to the important discovery that the white Zinc Paint, manufactured by the New Jersey Zinc Company, serves as a perfect protection against the ravages of the marine worm, and the formation of barnacles, whilst no other paint or preparation of any kind combines the same protective effect.

I am now preparing a full report on this important subject to the Bureaus of Yards and Docks, at Washington, and shall send with it a complete series of specimens of wood and metal plates, which were covered with the different paints and preparations, and then exposed alike or an entire season, in salt water, opposite this tray yard; all of which illustrates, in the moststrating manner, the invaluable qualities and decides a speriority of your White Zinc Paint over all of the kinds paints, especially for marine purposes

You are at liberty to give full publicity to the above stated facts, which are of too much importance to be kept from the naval and commercial world. I am, respectfully, your obedient servant, JAMES JARVIS, luspector U. S. Navy Yard, Gosport, Va.
